

A Quick Guide to the Snowy Owl

A Very Special Winter Visitor

Snowy owls live on the tundra in the high arctic. In winter, some fly south to places that look like the tundra: beaches, airports, and big fields. In years when there's abundant food and snowy owls raise lots of young, many birds may visit us.

How can we be good hosts?

How to Help

Protect snowy owls by...

Giving them plenty of space and only observing from afar

Supporting our work to relocate them from airports, keeping both people and owls safe
